

REMINDER

Last year the ETA adopted a new scheduling system, TheOneDB, which is fully integrated with our members. This reduces volunteer work loads and provides essentially instant updates to game schedule information to serve you better.

Please note however that the ETA game schedule information and team standings is also available on other than our own and our members web sites. We do not control the content and updates to external sites and as such the information they contain may differ from ours and/or be out of date. In all cases the ETA's web site game schedule information and team standings contain the latest information and are to be considered as correct.
